Psychologist turned Full Stack Developer with a thing for patterns, whether in human behavior, code, or music tabs. Years spent behind the wheel taught me to think fast, stay calm, and connect the dots under pressure. Now I bring that mindset to clean code, elegant UI, and a backend I'm not afraid to face. I enjoy debugging as much as building, and I'm always learning. Currently improving my German, picking up Italian, and solving Rubik's cubes faster than my coffee cools down.
